

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

March 3, 2015

I am pleased to join in celebrating your 10th anniversary.

In America, history is not only made by presidents and generals. Change often comes when caring and engaged individuals join together to build a brighter, stronger future for themselves and for the generations to come.

For years, you have carried forward a proud tradition. By daring to imagine the world as it could be and working tirelessly to realize that vision, you are helping America reach a better tomorrow.

Congratulations on your anniversary. As you reflect on your years of service to your community, I hope you take pride in what you have achieved. I wish you all the best for the years ahead.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be Barack Obama's signature, consisting of a large 'O', a stylized 'B', and a long horizontal line extending to the right.